Tom,

My client advises that he has completed all of the repairs. Perhaps the County might inspect the hotel sooner rather than later in the event more needs to be done prior to the final hearing on May 22. Thanks.

Dear Todd,

Thank you for your follow-up email message concerning Northbrook Industries ("United Inn") and thank you very much for your kind words. Like you, I remain hopeful that the property will be in compliance before the next court date on May 22, 2018.

As always, please call or email us with any questions or information about the property and we'll always do the same for you. I copied the Solicitor's Quality of Life team on this email message to keep all team members updated on the property.

Again, Todd, I remain hopeful that the property will be in compliance before the next court date. Thanks and take care,

Tom

Tom,

I hope all is well. Per our discussion at the last compliance hearing, I am following up with you regarding the remaining remediation work at the hotel. We are committed to completing all remaining work at the property by early May, in advance of what we hope is a final hearing on May 22, 2018. As the work is completed, we ask that you advise of any additional citations or outstanding issues regarding the property that should be addressed. We share your office's desire to put this matter behind us as expeditiously as possible. Thank you for all that you have done to ease this process thus far. The patience and responsiveness exhibited by you and those in your office has been most appreciated.

Best, THS
